Venice abandons cable plan

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

The city of Venice will dissolve its franchise agreement with Sun Cable Systems of the CATV Systems and Associates of Tallahassee, Fla., and try to revoke a $15,000 performance bond posted by the cable television company. It was decided at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

Mayor Tyrone Echols sought a decision from the council on whether to terminate the franchise ordinance and claim the bonding money, based on lack of action by the firm and an inability to get answers, either by letter or telephone, from the Sun Cable principals, especially Doyle J. Dugans Sr., franchising manager, concerning the cable system's installation.

VENICE HAS BEEN THWARTED nearly two years in its efforts to get cable television installed in the community and the subject came up Tuesday night when First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels commented about an advertisement in the Press-Record.

"I saw a South-Western Cable TV ad in the Press-Record offering free installation to new subscribers, so they are looking for business. I'm wondering if we shouldn't talk to them about installing cable TV here," Daniels said.

"I have no reservations about going to someone else (to get service), but I want to get that $15,000 also," Mayor Echols said, referring to the performance bond.

"I WANT TO know where we stand in this," the mayor said. The answer came from City Attorney Lawrence Hartman, who replied, "I think we are safe to proceed against the bond."

At that point, the mayor asked the council for authority to file suit against Aetna Casualty Co., the firm issuing the performance bond and revoke the $15,000 guarantee.

Approval was given quickly by the aldermen and authority also was granted to contact South-Western Cable TV for details concerning possible installation of that cable network in Venice.

BEFORE AGREEING to contact South-Western, some discussion arose between council members about the recent sale of the local area cable company and whether the firm would be willing to expand its service into Venice.

"Well, we won't know until we talk with them," one of the aldermen commented.

In the franchise agreement, a section states that the cable system is to be completed within a 90-day period after construction begins.

AFTER NUMEROUS obstacles, with unfulfilled promises and retractions of verbal agreements, continuously surfacing over an 18-month period, the Sun Cable firm was granted the franchise last July 26 and began trenching operations to install cable underground last Oct. 6 in the vicinity of the Bissell Street Apartments.

After several days on the job, apparently it was decided by the franchising manager to discontinue laying an underground cable network, citing the expense, and return to the original plan of an overhead system.

At that point, the workman on the project departed, leaving some trenching equipment in the Venice City Garage area and no one has returned since that time, it was learned.

REPEATED EFFORTS to contact some of the company officials by telephone and letter have been fruitless, Mayor Echols noted at the Feb. 7 council meeting.

Doyle Dugans was part of an original group which first approached the council and was granted a non-exclusive franchise on Aug. 24, 1982, at which time it was claimed the system would be operational by early spring, 1983.

But the agreement failed to produce a cable TV system and, for a period of time, the Venice aldermen and Mayor Echols lost sight of Dugans, who was having financial trouble with his New York partners.

Dugans reappeared in April 1983 with a new partner, but that partnership subsequently was dissolved and last August, the franchise once again ended up with Dugans.

In another matter, Mayor Echols reminded residents that traffic citations will be issued to persons who park vehicles adjacent to fire hydrants. He offered the comment after the problem was brought to the attention of the council by Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr.

Schools studying cost report

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

No personnel decisions for 1984-85 were made at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education, which will review administrative staffing March 6 and other staffing later in March.

Board President David Parney said after the meeting that the Personnel Committee has completed a series of interviews with administrators. The committee's conclusions and recommendations are to be on the next board agenda.

STREAMLINING and cost-cutting are among board members' goals and they have been gathering ideas from some of the administrative staff.

Nearly all staff size decisions affecting the coming year are to be made by late March.

It was indicated after the Feb. 7 board meeting that a smaller central administration is planned, with added responsibilities placed on principals in such matters as curriculum planning.

Along with approving the hiring of three secondary school secretaries for the remainder of the 1983-84 term, the board this week employed William Filthen, effective today, as a traffic guard at Parkway Elementary Road south of Stratford Lane.

Grant sought to update GC treatment

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Granite City will submit a $2.6 million grant application to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) to ready the city's wastewater plant to become a regional facility.

The target date for the completion of the construction is 1987, including approximately a year for design and engineering studies and another year to carry out the work. The grant process should take about three months.

EXTENSIVE repairs would have been required at the aging plant, regardless of the regionalization plans, Mayor Paul Schuler said during the regular Tuesday night council session.

Despite the price tag, Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, an independent engineering firm, has eliminated several items not considered essential at the plant. The largest single expense will be a $890,000 dewatering system to treat solid wastes or sludge.

The city will share the cost of the sludge press, considered a regionalization expense, with the approximately 13 other communities expected to be in the new sanitary treatment area. The region is expected to include the Quad-City area, Glen Carbon, other portions of Madison County and northern sections of St. Clair County.

GRANITE CITY will be responsible for the other $1.7 million in improvements at its plant. Assuming the IEPA approves the 75 percent grant, as expected by city officials, the actual cost to the city will be about $425,000.

Other regional partners are in the process of submitting their own individual grant requests to fund construction needed to hook on and pump waste to the Granite City plant.

Representatives of a proposed 12-man regional board have been meeting twice monthly at the Southern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission in Collinsville. The agency will draft the regionalization agreement for the divergent communities.

GRANITE CITY will maintain ownership of its plant and is seeking permanent chairmanship of the (Continued on Page 6)

Motorcyclist dies after collision

A motorcyclist, Robert F. Jones, 18, of 4908 Carl St. was injured fatally and his passenger was hurt seriously Wednesday when struck by an auto on Illinois Route Three at West Pontoon Road.

The crash occurred at 6:30 p.m. and Mr. Jones died in surgery at 9:20 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had sustained extensive injuries.

HIS COUSIN, Leroy M. Sloan, 12, of 4901 Carl suffered a leg fracture and multiple cuts and bruises. He is in stable condition today at SEMC.

The young passenger on the motorcycle said he believes its headlights were operating.

Paula Louise Williams, 18, Rural Route One, Granite City, said she did not see the northbound motorcycle or its lights.

THE MOTORIST TOLD of stopping her eastbound auto at a stop sign and again in the middle of the four-lane, divided intersection before proceeding across the remainder of Highway Three.

She was arrested by Granite City police for failing to yield the right-of-way at a stop or yield intersection.

The collision damaged the front of her auto and the left front of the motorcycle, which was in the outer northbound lane.

THE TWO on the cycle were on their way home from the West Granite area, the Sloan boy said. Mr. Jones could not be questioned. Both were rushed to the medical center by ambulance.

Mr. Jones had observed his 18th birthday last month, on Jan. 19.

NEW SEWER LINE is installed across Jill Avenue near Wayne Avenue this week. Workmen from Davinroy Construction installed 180 feet of 8-inch sewer line in the easement and hope to have the street ready to reopen today. (Press-Record Photo by Gary Schneider)

IRS warns 'reimbursements' taxable

Ira Loeb, Internal Revenue Service district director, has announced that the Internal Revenue Service will be cracking down on so-called "reimbursement," "flexible spending" and similar arrangements. These plans appear to allow employees to pay their out-of-pocket medical, legal, dependent care or other personal expenses with "pre-tax dollars," thereby avoiding income and social security taxes on a portion of their wages.

Under these arrangements, employees submit proof of expenses to their employer, who recharacterizes a portion of the employees' otherwise agreed-upon salary as "reimbursement" for such expenses. On that basis, the employer treats, and advises employees to treat, the recharacterized amount as a tax-free payment and removes it from "wages" for employment tax purposes. There may be variations of this type of arrangement which are equally invalid.

Loeb said that "reimbursements" under such arrangements are part of the employee's income and are subject to federal income tax withholding and federal employment taxes. The arrangements are merely attempts to pay taxable compensation without compliance with the federal tax laws, by labeling a portion of the employee's salary as "reimbursement." In fact, no amount has been paid to reimburse the employee for expenses. The employee simply received his salary and paid personal expenses with it. Loeb further cautioned that it makes no difference if the "reimbursement" amounts are paid directly to the provider of the health care or other services or to the employee. Employers who file tax returns on the basis that these "reimbursements" are not taxable will be liable for payment of employment taxes and income and employment tax withholding on the amount of any alleged "reimbursement," as well as for interest and applicable penalties.

Employees who file their federal income tax returns on such a basis will be liable for additional tax, interest and applicable penalties. Loeb stated that this announcement addresses only the arrangements described. These arrangements are to be distinguished from valid fringe benefit plans. A valid plan is one where benefits such as group term life insurance, group hospitalization, group legal services or dependent care services are paid for or provided by the employer at some cost to the employer. Under a valid "cafeteria plan" an employee would be permitted to select a group of fringe benefits from a list such as those previously described. Under these plans, an employee makes a choice between salary and reimbursement before the beginning of the year. The employee elects reimbursement, but incurs such expenses during the year in an amount less than the limitation, the employee receives no further benefits or payments of any kind.

Loeb says that the IRS believes that there are numerous variations of all such arrangements—valid and invalid—this announcement is not intended to deal with or distinguish among all such variations.

Venice consumer board to respond to public outcry

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

"If the people's rights have been violated, then the ICC (Illinois Commerce Commission) should know about it and it's time they do something," Mayor Tyrone Echols stated at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

His remark came in response to the Rev. Harold Wilson's announcement at the meeting of the formation of a new Venice Utility Consumer Board.

THE MAYOR agreed to appoint a city representative to the new consumer-oriented board, an action requested by Wilson, who said the group will hold a citizens' meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27, at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice.

"The main purpose of the organization is to educate the people that they do have rights as consumers and, in these economic times, this is important," Wilson said.

"We hope to have someone at the meeting from the ICC to enlighten us on the rules and regulations (increasing utility charges and service termination) and possibly someone from Illinois Power Company," the minister told the aldermen.

WILSON, president of the Madison Branch of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People), is serving as board chairman, with the Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Venice Park Park Board, as co-chairman.

Rev. Williams said Wednesday that Illinois Power has agreed to send Lovene Morineau, customer services supervisor for the utility firm, and Rick Moore, assistant supervisor, to Monday night's meeting.

Also expected to be present is Dwight Quinn, co-chairman of Operation Turn On (OTO), an East St. Louis consumer-oriented organization.

"WE WANT to keep a friendly relationship with Illinois Power, but we do want some answers," Williams said Wednesday, adding that residents from Granite City and Madison are welcome to attend the session.

Referring to the "very high heating bills encountered by all area residents, this winter," Wilson stressed to the city council, "We are not out to 'get' Illinois Power, but we do want to survive."

"THEY (IP) are not telling the people certain things. They are not saying you can pay so much and pay the rest later. They want it all, or they threaten to cut off the electricity," he said.

(In Illinois Power late notices is notification urging the customer to contact IP to make arrangements if unable to pay the whole bill.)

"We're not telling people not to pay their bills. We want to encourage them to make an arrangement and work something out," Wilson said.

However, in some cases where deferred payments have been arranged and someone has been unable to come up with the balance on time, they have been told that service will be discontinued, the minister alleged.

"PEOPLE ARE not asking as they should and they are taking from the kids to pay their heating bills and some of those bills have been $200 and higher. How do you manage this if you are elderly or on a fixed income?" he asked the aldermen.

"There is no use walking in fear because you don't know your rights in these matters," he said.

"MAYBE WE CAN'T solve all the problems (of high bills), but we can help by letting people know what their rights are through the new board," he emphasized.

According to the Illinois Commerce Commission, certain procedures must be followed by a utility firm before service is terminated. Additional rules govern the cutoff of service from Dec. 1 through March 31, Wilson noted.

If gas or electric service is the only source of space heating, it may not be disconnected on any day when the National Weather Service forecast the temperature for the next 24 hours to be 32 degrees Fahrenheit or below, or on a day before a holiday or weekend when the weather is forecast to be 32 degrees Fahrenheit or below any time before the firm's next business day, it was noted.

Such information will be disseminated at Monday night's meeting and questions from those attending will be answered Wilson said.

Formation of the Venice Consumer Utility Board was conceived when the ministers heard many residents discuss bill-paying problems after church services and NAACP meetings. Many telephone calls were received from worried families, they said.

Wilson said it is hoped to form an eight-member board, including representatives of Venice churches and aldermanic wards. Persons interested in learning more about the project are being invited to contact the ministers or attend Monday's meeting, he added.

Allege Missouri men have items in auto

Radioing local police that he was following a driver who may be intoxicated this week, a railroad detective had pulled over a vehicle operated by Stephen L. Thompson, 25, of Rhineland, Mo., in a parking lot at Nameoki and Madison Avenue when officers arrived.

An open bottle of beer and a can of beer were seen in the car, along with other beer in the back seat. Thompson was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and released pending a court hearing.

Beneath a seat, a set of nunchuks, referred to as a bludgeoning weapon, was recovered and a hypodermic syringe was found tucked into the back of the seat, it was alleged.

A passenger in the vehicle, Ronald L. Vickery, 30, of New Florence, Mo., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon (bludgeon), illegal possession of a hypodermic syringe and illegal possession of alcohol. He was released after posting a $204 cash bond.

FILE DUI CHARGE AGAINST GC DRIVER

Morris M. Kohn, 24, of 2127 Grand Ave., was charged early Monday with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Kohn allegedly lost control of his car while traveling north on Grand Avenue, went up into a parking lot at 23rd Street and struck an Illinois Power light pole and a vehicle on the lot. Owner of the 1984 parked auto was Leslie Clark of Omaha, Neb.

After agreeing to take a breathalyzer test, which was administered by a Pontoon Beach police officer, Kohn was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Disgruntled Chouteau residents, unhappy because they must stand outdoors in all types of weather to wait in line to receive free government surplus commodity food items, ignited a heated discussion among the trustees at the Chouteau Township meeting Tuesday night.

"Dick" Sparks introduced a forum letter that stated a resident's disapproval with his program of people required to stand outdoors, instead of being allowed to wait inside the hall until their number is called.

With this statement, Thomas Johnson from South Roxana, said, "I agree with this woman. Why should the handicapped or sick people, or maybe a person subject to heart failure, be forced to stand in inclement weather and not be admitted to a township hall they have paid taxes to build."

"I make a motion that the people be allowed to enter the hall one hour before distribution takes place," Johnson said. Immediately, Trustee Dudley Lubbert of Hartford seconded the motion.

Sparks, however, would not ask for a vote on the motion until he stated his reasons for not letting people wait in the hall. "I have put notices in the newspaper noting the exact time we would start distribution to alert the people, but they chose to ignore the hours and some have arrived here three or four hours earlier. I cannot be set up that soon and I cannot instruct the senior citizens how the project is to be conducted with a lot of residents inside who sometimes wait their food items before we are ready," Sparks explained.

"I don't care what you plan to do, I still think the people should be admitted to a warm hall in the winter and cool hall in the summer and not be forced to stand in line," Johnson answered. Lubbert agreed with his statement.

"If you want your suggestion to be accepted, I then want each trustee to be present for this task and see how hard it is to satisfy all the people."

Sparks answered, "My motion stands and I want a vote on it." Johnson and Lubbert voted in favor and Steve Novosel, Josephine Burger and Sparks voted against the motion, which lost.

Sparks then announced food items will be given to those who are eligible on Monday at 9:30 a.m. and no will be admitted into the facility before that hour.

The supervisor informed the trustees he sent a letter to Dale Klorr, Illinois Department of Transportation district engineer, in conjunction with work on a drainage problem on Chain of Rocks Road. After the initial work began, it was discovered the problem could not be solved without a mechanical means, such as a lift station, being installed. In answer, the engineer said that, through cooperative efforts, the entire project is being reviewed and a lift station is being evaluated and, as soon as a decision is made, the township will be notified.

A review of the township finances revealed a total of $22,301 in interest was received during 1983, Sparks reported.

Trustees approved a request of the senior citizens to take a bus trip to Beaver Dam Lake, near Carlinville on May 24, and also approved hiring the Belleville Coach Lines at a cost of $210. Participants will depart from the township parking lot at 8 a.m. and return at 5 p.m.

Other announcements included a legal aid seminar, sponsored by the Social Service network in the Quad-City area, set for March 23 at Pascal Hall in St. Elizabeth Medical Center; a status report from the Township Officials of Illinois in regards to legal defense participants; and Belleville Area College sent guidelines for its Senior Aids Program, noting there is no expected changes for the forthcoming year.

A communication from Madison County Community Development reflected the amount of money paid out and also noted the township still has $27,751 left for housing development.

The Board of Trustees agreed again this year to subscribe to membership in the Old Six Mile Historical Society at a cost of $25.

Mrs. Pat Polley informed the members a letter from Revenue Sharing officials lists the township as a recipient of $31,615, to be allotted in four payments.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for March 5 at 7 p.m., Mrs. Polley said.

GC council briefs

Phone franchise disconnected

Mayor Paul Schuler said he selected the aldermen most outspoken about the closing of the local Illinois Bell Co. office to serve on an ad hoc committee to write a new telephone franchise. Granite City, along with other communities throughout the state, no longer has a phone franchise with Illinois Bell following its separation from American Telegraph and Telephone. Residents have no local telephone office where they can pay bills or voice complaints, the mayor said. AT&T does service leased phones through Hubner Hardware Co., 2881 Madison Ave. Schuler appointed Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman, and Aldermen Casmer Skubish and Lloyd Bailey to "investigate and formulate a telephone franchise, keeping in mind the needs of the citizens of Granite City for efficient and economical service."

Business law branches out

Tree trimming services may soon fall under the city's revised business licensing ordinance. Aldermen voted 11 to 3 to place on first reading a law that would prune tree trimmers' profits annually by $100 to pay for a licensing fee to be assessed yearly. Street Superintendent Mac Warfield said he requested the amendment to more closely regulate tree trimmers, due to the continuing problem the city faces from discarded tree branches on curbs and sidewalks. Moving the trimmings has proven costly to the city. Aldermen Phillip Miller and Woodrow Moad oppose the bill, citing "too high" of a fee that could hurt unemployed residents who trim trees part time. Alderman Stephen Salich also voted against the motion. The law is due for a final reading next Tuesday.

Sick pay leaves ill feelings

Alderman Salich, who opposed a toned-down sick leave policy approved in 1982, told the council "an awful lot of sick leave" is being used by city employees. The current policy gives department heads discretionary authority to deny sick leave to employees who use sick leave for any length of time. Employees are required to submit a note after three consecutive days of absence. Salich cited the sick leave taken by certain emergency medical technicians, engineering and wastewater treatment plant employees, who used less than three consecutive days and did not submit a physician's note. Plant Superintendent Terrence McMillan said only one employee of his is allegedly abusing the sick leave policy and that employee is headed towards more severe disciplinary measures. Alderman Jake Varadian asked Mayor Paul Schuler to send out a "firm letter" about sick leave used by city employees. "It (the sick leave policy) has been abused, but apparently not updated enough," the mayor said.

Wants to keep rigs 'truckin'

Fourth Ward homeowners residing behind Belleme Village Shopping Center will no longer have to put up with tractor trailer trucks that use the center's parking lot as an overnight stop. Aldermen approved an agreement with the center's owners, who will allow the city to regulate traffic on the private lot. Alderman Sharon Perjak said the resolution was in answer to the residents' complaints. "Now the city has permission to run them (tractor trailer trucks) off," according to the alderman.

Lawsuit filed after injury

Marvin Kinworthy of Granite City has filed a lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court on behalf of his son, who was injured May 19 while playing near Probes Avenue. The complaint, seeking a trial by jury, asks an award of more than $15,000 to compensate for medical expenses acquired by his son. It claims the property owned by the city contained holes and depressions where the child fell.

Healthy in the long run

St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Glik's Department Stores and Granite City Glass have been granted permission to sponsor a run on May 19. The run will be conducted in connection with Hospital Week activities intended to promote fitness in the community.

A rush of traffic laws

Aldermen put on first reading a number of traffic ordinances to be given final consideration next week. A 60-foot "handicapped parking only" area was established on the north side of the intersection of 21st Street and Illinois Avenue next to the Second Baptist Church. A "no parking zone" would stretch 70 feet on the southwest side of 28th Street, at a point 20 feet from the intersection of Grand Avenue and 28th Street. The council gave temporary approval for two-way parking on the 1700 block of Spruce Street on Saturday evening, during the Mexican Honorary Commission dance. Aldermen suspended council rules and gave final authorization establishing a 120-foot "30-minute parking restriction" on the north and south sides of Denver Street approximately 20 feet from its intersection with Nevada Avenue.

Benefit conducted for diabetes

Actor Ned Beatty, known for his roles in "Deliverance" and "Network," will act as honorary chairman for "Celebration Gala '84." The event, which will benefit the Greater St. Louis chapter of the American Diabetes Association, will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 25, in the Khorsassan Room of the Chase Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis.

The gala will celebrate the St. Louis affiliate's achievements in 1983 through such events as the 11th annual Bike-A-Thon, the third annual Golf Invitational and the annual Tag Days carter drive. Research grants and fellowships also will be acknowledged that evening to promising medical researchers. Special guest appearances will include Charles D. Walker, the McDonnell-Douglas Corporation engineer scheduled to fly in the June 7 space shuttle mission, and Joseph Lewis, incoming chairman of the board of the National American Diabetes Association in New York City. Also present will be Robert Shapiro, honorary host for the gala and president of the NutraSweet Group. Local television personality, Cliff St. James and his wife, Nance, will serve as the masters of ceremony for the evening.

ALLEGES BEING ROBBED
James Emery of Wood River told Venetia police during the week that he accepted a ride from a man upon leaving a National City tavern and soon after getting into the car, the man pulled a gun at him and asked for money.

Emery jumped out of the vehicle, throwing his wallet containing $240 at the robber, he told police. He said the incident occurred on South Fourth Street, near the Wiggins Highline area.

Two area firms cited for mislabeled meats

The Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Meat, Poultry and Livestock Inspection has cited two Madison meat processing firms for allegedly mixing soy meal in their ground beef.

Hamilton Brothers Inspected Meats and Miller Provision Co., Inc., agreed to shut down their meat processing operations recently in an agreement ending action by the state.

Miller sold ground beef to the Madison County Jail and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the pre-school Head Start program.

There was no danger to health, but the state's inspection code requires that items sold as ground beef contain no additives. Soybean meal showed up in "random samples" of meat from the two plants.

State officials say it seems to be a case of mislabeling, since the meat inspected could legally have been sold as ground beef patties or beef patty mix.

Chapter I school budget increased

Granite City schools' Chapter I educational program budget for 1983-84 was raised to $59,336 Tuesday night with the addition of $31,707.

Before being amended, the budget had been approved by the Madison County regional school superintendent and the state Chapter I office.

Warren D. Collins and Gary L. Proctor, Chapter I administrators here, said $29,487 of the increase will be reserved for earned absence disbursements to three released teachers, to be paid if they resign, and for salary payments. At the time the original budget was prepared, it was unknown which faculty members would be assigned to Chapter I; pay varies according to experience and education.

Other factors in the amendment were: $9,200 for restated portions of administrative salaries that initially were cut; $4,548 for insurance, pensions, auditing travel; $5,500 for an additional computer for a Coodige Junior High reading class, plus a computer printer for each of five Chapter I schools; $1,857 for indirect school district operating costs; $1,300 for an electric typewriter and a calculator for the Chapter I office; and $1,000 for instructional expenses.

Mrs. Ruth Lahr, a member of the board and the retired Chapter I supervisor, asked the amount of carryover funds from the previous year and Collins estimated it at $186,000.

Chapter I, formerly Title I, channels federal funds to school districts to enhance reading and mathematics instruction in low-income neighborhoods.

Man charged in attempted burglary

Jerome Kirkland, 28, of 1104 Douglas Ave., Venice, was charged with attempted burglary and resisting arrest after police observed him trying to break into the Head Start Center (the former Dunbar School), Third and Jackson streets, Madison.

When Madison police officers arrived, Kirkland allegedly was striking the windows of the school, trying to break in. He was taken to the station, telling him he was under arrest.

He then fled the scene, at which point one officer yelled "halt" and fired a warning shot. Kirkland continued to flee and as he was running in the other officer's direction, this officer also told the subject to halt and fired a warning shot.

Kirkland continued to run and was finally taken into custody in the front yard at 907 Washington Ave. Madison. Officers said Kirkland refused to be handcuffed and was uncooperative when he was being fingerprinted and photographed. Kirkland was transferred to the Madison County Jail early Wednesday morning.

UNEASY RIDER

It will simplify your life enormously if your pet is a good traveler. For this reason, it's particularly important to take your kitten or puppy along for an occasional ride... even when it isn't necessary. That way, he gets used to riding in the car. For we all know, associate it with trips to the veterinarian's office.

For a long trip, some allowances must be made for the best adjusted pet traveler. Bring along a bottle of water from home, for instance. Drinking unfamiliar water on the road can cause diarrhea in animals, as well as in humans. It also pays to bring along a supply of his regular food, in case it isn't available in other parts of the country.

Don't feed and water your pet right before you leave either. Dogs and cats can get motion sickness, particularly if it's their first long trip. Save the big meal for when you stop at night. Remember also to bring along a collar and leash for dogs and a litter box for cats, for those all important pit stops.

During his visit, Voegel is traveling to the home of Charles Dickens, the British Library Museum, Tower of London, St. Paul's Cathedral and Buckingham Palace.

The maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John (Stella) Mucho and Mrs. Anna Walker, all reside in Granite City. Mrs. Ruth Waldon of Murphysboro, Ill., is the paternal great-grandmother.

After receiving a call about alleged underage girls in a bar, officers went this week to Lenny's Tavern, West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue, and arrested Susan Marie Ponce, 18, of 2108 Lindell Blvd., seated at a table, and Lori B. King, 19, of 8 Frontenac Lane, who came out of a restroom.

Miss Ponce was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol and Miss King was charged with being a minor in a tavern. Both were released after each posted a $52 cash bond.

Dale R. Chastlain, 28, of 4902 Kirkpatrick Homes, a bartender, was charged with unlawful sale of alcohol to a minor. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Nine Quad-Cityans are on special grand jury

Nine Quad-City area residents are among 23 empaneled Tuesday morning to serve on a special Madison County grand jury believed to be investigating allegations against Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber.

The special grand jury is expected to meet three or four days to study allegations made by Belleville attorney Amiel Cuedo and one of Weber's former aides.

Cuedo alleges numerous allegations in a five-page letter sent to the court, including allegations that Weber intentionally prosecuted a man he knew was innocent, that employees were being paid for time not worked, that pressure was put on jurors in Weber's office to encourage contributions to Weber's campaign and other allegations.

Weber, a Republican, says he believes the allegations are political in nature and are the result of a disgruntled office manager he fired, Marvin Darling, and of Cuedo's dislike for Weber.

Quad-Cityans empaneled by Circuit Judge Horace Calvo Tuesday morning are Connie Morrison of Pontoon Beach, John Voyer, Floyd W. Smith, Serelda Pasley, Brenda Hahn, Francis Sampson, Timothy Faulkner, Louise Brisk and the foreman, Millard D. Crawford, all of Granite City.

They were sworn in by Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

Although their calls for jury service are for the standard four-month period, Portell said these grand jurors were told they were there only for one case and were expected to serve only three or four days. Portell said he could not confirm that the evidence the grand jury will hear is about Weber.

A separate grand jury is meeting for the standard four months, hearing normal grand jury cases, Portell said.

County sends letter of intent for regional grant

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

Morris Miles, chairman of the Madison County Board's Special Sanitary Sewer Committee, announced last night that the county has written a letter of intent to the Illinois State Sanitary Protection Agency, concerning a request for a grant to update its plant. The updating would be necessary if a regional treatment agreement is to be reached with Granite City.

Under the agreement, Glen Carbon's sewage would be routed through the county lines, thus requiring improvements to handle the increased flow. In return, Glen Carbon would agree to pay for the updating of the plant and would pay a continuous fee for using the county line.

The announcement of intent for the grant came after members of the county committee met earlier that day with officials from Glen Carbon.

Miles said that the county engineers, Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab, are presently studying engineering plans to Glen Carbon. He said these plans will prove what type of a rate Glen Carbon should pay for usage of the county lines. However, he said the rate has not been set as yet.

ALSO AT THE meeting, Sewer Superintendent Gene Futch told board members that there has been a loss of four pumps in the last month and a half. The cost of repairing three of these pumps is estimated at $1,000, even with the county's 25 percent discount, he said.

Futch said he is not surprised that the breaks have occurred, however, since the pumps that broke were "old."

A report also was given on Rickmann Enterprises, which had been involved in meetings trying to reach a pay agreement with a neighbor to build a sewer extension to tap onto the county line.

Nursing school has open house

Lutheran Medical Center's School of Nursing (LMCSN) will conduct an open house for prospective students and individuals interested in a nursing career on Sunday, Feb. 26, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Presentations about nursing as a career, opportunities for nursing training at LMC, and available scholarships and financial aid will be featured. Tours of the educational building, audio-visual studio and nursing residence will be offered.

The school is located at 2611 Miami St., St. Louis. It is accredited by the Missouri State Board of Nursing and the National League for Nursing. For more information about the open house, interested persons may call 314-577-5850.

According to Futch, the trucking company has reached a pay agreement and completed construction on the sewer line.

THE COMPANY had said earlier that the costs of the extension line were estimated at $11,700. Futch said that Rickmann Enterprises is now asking that they be able to tap onto the county system free of charge. All county users are charged $25 to tap onto the sewer line. Although board members agreed that Rickmann has already paid more than enough to get onto the county line, no agreement was reached.

In other business, Futch was authorized to seek bids on new draperies for the county office.

Charge two in Todd burglary

Jeffrey W. Thrasher, 20, of 2641 Highway 3, and Ricky Dee Evans, 19, of 2652 Highway 3, were charged with burglary in informational documents issued Tuesday through the Madison County state's attorney's office in Edwardsville to Granite City police.

Their arrest at 3:40 a.m. Monday in the 700 block of State Street, Madison, followed the discovery 40 minutes earlier of a break-in at Charles Todd Uniforms Co., 2929 Emmee St., where a hole was cut in a six-foot-high chain-link fence and a door near the building's loading dock was found ajar.

It was alleged the intruders stole a window air conditioner and a mechanic's standing tool chest, among other items. Coin-operated machines in the business firm had been forced open, reports said.

Police were sent alerted to the burglary by security officers at the Granite City Army Installation, who found several items lying in the median grass between the north and southbound lanes of Route 3, about 100 yards south of Rock Road.

Certain items were traced to the Charles Todd firm and the break-in was discovered moments later.

CHARGE MISSOURI MEN

Scott Donald Shoen, 21, of Chesterfield, Mo., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and Terence Patrick Walsh, 22, of Creve Coeur, Mo., was booked for illegal possession of alcohol at 2:25 a.m. Wednesday after their car was halted at 24th and Green in the Washington Avenue and several open cans of beer and a bottle of Schnapps allegedly were found in the vehicle.

WARRANT IS SERVED

William N. Kee, 30, of 2028 Ohio Ave., was arrested at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday at a tavern at West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Advisory voting on Ill. utility tax level

More than 100 Illinois communities will be voting at the March 20 primary on local referendums, sponsored by The Coalition for Political Honesty, calling for adoption of the taxpayer relief act of 1984. The Taxpayer Relief Act is a bill in Springfield (House Bill 1726) intended to cut the state utility tax on families, businesses and local governments from five percent to 2 1/2 percent. Illinois families would save anywhere from $50 to $150 dollars a year, according to Patrick Quinn, leader of the Coalition.

Municipalities voting on the issue include Waukegan, Berwyn, Naperville, Oak Lawn, Mt. Prospect, Urbana, Danville, Lincoln, Peru and Clinton. It will be presented to voters in 56 Chicago-area suburbs and 49 Downstate areas. No such votes are scheduled here.

The advisory elections on the Taxpayer Relief Act will give thousands of consumers a chance to speak in a language that all politicians understand - the language of votes at the ballot box for a specific plan to cut the state utility tax in half," Quinn said.

"The fairest way to grant tax relief is to reduce the regressive utility tax, which hits families and small businesses the hardest.

Under current law, five percent of everyone's electric, gas and phone bills is turned over to the state treasury every month. The tax is even levied on local governments, including school districts.

"By slapping a five percent monthly tax on vital necessities like heat, light and phone service, the state has taken its share of the tremendous increase in utility prices in the past decade," Quinn continued.

"The utility tax is a hidden and runaway tax which goes up, without legislative oversight, every time a utility is granted a rate hike by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"National figures show Illinois has become the biggest taxer of utility services in the nation. State utility tax revenues have doubled since 1978.

"The utility tax is particularly bad for the state economic climate because it increases the real cost of doing business in Illinois.

"A company must pay the five percent utility tax on its energy and phone use in Illinois, whether or not it makes a profit. But cutting the utility tax in half, we can demonstrate to business that we are serious about creating jobs and economic growth," said Quinn.

The Taxpayer Relief Act is sponsored by Rep. Dan Pierce (D-Highland Park), chairman of the House Revenue Committee. The proposal may be voted on by the Illinois General Assembly in the late spring. The Relief Act's plan to roll back the state utility tax would be funded by eliminating three "loopholes" in the state income tax code.

"These loopholes, which primarily benefit real estate speculators and multi-national corporations, will cost Illinois taxpayers more than $500 million in the coming fiscal year," Quinn contended.

The Taxpayer Relief Act would close these by ending accelerated depreciation benefits at the state level, repealing the state investment tax credit, and adopting the unitary method of apportioning multinational corporate income.

The resulting revenue could be used to give across-the-board utility tax relief to all Illinois families, businesses and local governments paying the utility tax.

"The choice on the Taxpayer Relief act is clear.

"Should Illinois adopt a tax system with no loopholes and lower utility tax payments for everybody? Or should we continue to give away tax breaks to a few powerful interests at the expense of higher taxes for everyone else?"

Nash's to change to under 21 club

According to Warren Nash, owner of Nash's Lounge in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center complex, this Saturday will be the club's last night in business as a lounge serving liquor.

The club will reopen on Friday, March 2, as an "under 21 club." The club will feature live entertainment nightly. No beer or liquor will be served or allowed on the premises.

Nash said the decision to change the lounge came after he received good response to "under 21" dances he hosted on Sunday nights. "The changeover will give kids a place to go during the week, instead of roaming around the fast food places," he said.

Although Nash said he had not yet decided on the club's hours, he said he may open at 2:30 in the afternoon on weekdays. During the week, the club will have a disc jockey to spin records.

Nash said he also plans to feature a dance instructor twice a week to teach the club patrons to perform "break dancing."

Weekend hours of the club will be from 8 p.m. to midnight on Fridays and Saturdays.

Nash will open the new club with the band Thel, which will perform on Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3.

Opening prayer was given by Guido Gasperin of Collinsville Aerie 1081, presentation of the American, Flag, Bible and Eagle was made by Larry Barnhar of Granite Aerie 1126, followed by reports submitted by Carl Buehler, Granite Aerie, and secretary of the district, Ellis Wiseman, Shiloh Aerie 545, treasurer, and Fritz Hoffarth, Shiloh Aerie 545, trustee.

John DeCola, president of Wood River Aerie 2773, welcomed the district members and guests and noted that the ladies of the auxiliary had prepared a dinner to be served after the district meeting.

The roll call of district officers included: Bill Hemken (Granite Aerie) past director, John Piper (Wood River Aerie and Granite Aerie) vice president, John Daley (Granite Aerie) conductor, Guido Gasperin (Collinsville Aerie) chaplain, Carl Buehler (Granite Aerie) secretary, Ellis Wiseman (Shiloh Aerie 545) treasurer, and Fritz Hoffarth (Shiloh Aerie) and Virgil Gibson (Collinsville Aerie 185) trustee's.

Stanton, district director, introduced the Eagle Illinois state officers and guests which included: past grand worthy president and present Eagle National Chairman of the Max Baer Heart Fund W.A. (Red) McCawley (Shiloh Aerie); State Treasurer Charles (Rabbit)

Landfried (Shiloh Aerie); Illinois Zone 3 vice president James Whirlledge (Shiloh Aerie and Granite City Aerie); past state president and present state chairman of the REAC and Golden Eagle Clubs Felix Yost (Alton Aerie 254) and Illinois Eagle of the Year Carl Buehler (Granite City Aerie).

All of the state officers commented on the great strides the Belleville Aerie had made in the past few months in increasing their membership and their participation in district functions.

Greg Beason (Belleville Aerie 743 president) reported that there were nine candidates waiting for initiation into the Eagles from Belleville and John Piper (Wood River Aerie and Granite Aerie) noted there were two candidates waiting for initiation from Wood River.

Members of the initiating team were Ellis Wiseman (Shiloh Aerie) president, Virgil McCleery (Alton Aerie 254) past president, Bill Hemken (Granite Aerie) vice president, Guido Gasperin (Collinsville Aerie) chaplain, and Bob Stanton (Granite Aerie) conductor.

The state officers welcomed the new members and emphasized, "The Fraternal Order of Eagles is known world over but your own Aerie can only progress if you as individuals put your best effort forward by getting involved in Eagle activities, charity drives and bringing new members into your Aeries."

W.A. (Red) McCawley (Shiloh Aerie), past grand worthy president and present National Chairman of the Max Baer Heart Fund, stated that he had been given a copy of the article that had appeared in the Granite City Press-Record concerning the Jan. 15 meeting of District 7 which was held in Granite City. He said that this article is exactly what Grand Worthy President Pio Scagnelli was looking for when he came up with the theme "Sell the Eagles." McCawley noted the article will be sent to Bob Hansen, editor of the Eagles Magazine, to be published.

Director Stanton closed the meeting following the final ceremony which was conducted by Bill Hemken, Guido Gasperin and John Piper.

In the social room, immediately after the meeting, a dinner was served by the Wood River auxiliary. The main table, reserved for the state officers and wives and district officers and wives, was decorated with arrangements of live flowers and candles. Dancing followed to the music of Larry Rudolph and Wild Country.

Continue aid to handicapped

Gov. James R. Thompson has announced a series of reforms in the state's administration of the federal supplemental Social Security program designed to further protect rights of the disabled in Illinois while maintaining a moratorium he imposed in December that prevents cutoff of aid to the handicapped.

In replying to a request from U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret Heckler for Illinois' cutoff plans, he said a lawsuit filed in the Federal court in Alton seeking a review of benefit cutoffs since March 1981 means the state should be considered as being one with "pending litigation."

"I am requesting that Illinois be properly classified as a state with litigation," he said in a letter to Sec. Heckler. "As such, it would not be appropriate for Illinois to resume processing cessations."

"In any event," Thompson said, "I cannot agree to the lifting of a moratorium until a 'face-to-face' hearing process, so vital to the interests of the disabled, is in place."

Thompson's action Thursday came two months after he imposed a moratorium on benefit cutoffs, a move prompted by confusion between federal and state officials concerning eligibility of benefit recipients.

The governor said one solution is in legislation currently stalled in Congress. Thompson called on Mrs. Heckler to work to pass that measure "as soon as possible."

"It is vital for the disabled people of Illinois that this program be improved and that it be consistent from state to state," he said. "I will urge the Illinois Congressional delegation to work with you toward achieving needed program changes."

In addition to protecting current recipients with the moratorium, Illinois will take additional steps aimed at reinforcing the rights of the handicapped and improving state administration of the program.

They include:

1. Establishing an advisory council of experts and advocates to review state administration of the program and make recommendations to the state Department of Rehabilitation Services (DORS) and the Bureau of Disability Adjudication Services on ways to improve it.

2. Developing an advocacy ombudsman system in the bureau to help applicants better understand the process.

3. Establishing, when the moratorium is lifted, a safeguard system to double check all cutoff decisions and improve quality assurance reviews and denials of original applications.

4. Improving applicants' medical files through increased fees for necessary tests and improved communication with the medical community.

5. Increasing the bureau's work with advocacy groups and other organizations concerned with helping the disabled.

6. Recruiting Hispanic adjudicators in the bureau to help Spanish-speaking claimants and physicians.

In addition, handbooks and fact sheets explaining the application process will be developed. Articles for the Illinois State Medical Society Journal will be prepared on a regular basis, and a training program to improve work between state agencies will be created.

Bureau staff members will make periodic visits to Social Security district offices, and a special training program to improve DORS counselors' knowledge of changes in the review process will be implemented.

The disability program run by DORS in Illinois used federal funds and follows federal guidelines. Before Thompson ordered the moratorium on Dec. 21, federal officials had overruled state officials on the eligibility of applicants and claimants, "creating confusion in Illinois and other states," he said.

Ronald J. Holdener, 24, of Belleville, was arrested at Broadway and Klein Street in Venice after his pickup truck collided with another car last week.

Holdener was charged with driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and disobeying a stop sign.

The car Holdener collided with is owned by Jimmie L. Scott, 24, of 310 Selb St., Madison. Scott was not injured in the accident.

Checkoff can help wild game

For the first time in history, Illinois taxpayers have the option of assisting the state's non-game wildlife by checking box 12b on the state income tax form, explained Department of Conservation Natural Heritage Manager Carl Becker.

By checking the appropriate box, the taxpayer may contribute up to $10 on a single return, or up to $20 on a joint return, to the new Non-Game Wildlife Conservation Fund. These monies will support a wide variety of programs designed to help non-game wildlife—the birds, mammals, amphibians and reptiles that make up 90 percent of our wildlife population.

Activities funded through the check-off will not duplicate on-going efforts, although in many cases they will enhance or complement similar efforts, he said. Many species which will benefit are classified as endangered and threatened, such as the river otter, bald eagle, prairie chicken and the bantam sunfish, Becker noted.

Becker emphasized that the Nongame Wildlife Conservation

Check-off is an option that should appeal to all who care about wildlife, whether they are birdwatchers, fishermen, hunters, campers, hikers or boaters. Although the program will be directed at nongame, many of the habitat-oriented efforts will benefit game species such as rabbits, pheasants, quail and deer.

Illinois is the 30th state to create a wildlife check-off law since Colorado pioneered the concept in 1977, Becker said. Contributions to the Nongame Wildlife Conservation Fund may be listed as a charitable deduction on the following year's federal income tax form, Becker added.

MUNIZ LOCAL COORDINATOR FOR JOHN GLENN CAMPAIGN

John Glenn's presidential campaign in Illinois has strengthened its organizational network with the completion of its roster of 22 Congressional District coordinators, including Collinsville's Ray Muniz.

Tom Joyce, state Democratic primary campaign director for Senator Glenn, said the coordinators are responsible for developing a working organization, planning a program of events to stimulate public interest in Glenn, and recruiting volunteers to carry out that program. The theme is, "Believe in the Future, Again."

The question sometimes arises as to whether a person's automobile insurance will apply when there is an accident and a friend or relative is driving the owner's car. Frequently situations arise where people other than the person named in the policy drive the automobile.

Illinois law provides that the owner's car insurance will apply if another person is using the car with the owner's permission. Furthermore, once this permission is given to a person, coverage under the auto policy is also provided to a subsequent user of the vehicle. Of course, the insurance company always has the right when the policy is issued to state that coverage will not apply if a particular person drives the car.

The reason why the question of insurance coverage becomes important is because in many cases this is the only source of money to repair the damaged automobile. In one case, a father allowed his son to use the family car, but he instructed him never to allow anyone other than a member of the family to use the car. Subsequently, the boy took the car to a party in Indiana. At the party, he traded cars with another young man, who proceeded to drive the family car and wreck it. The insurance company for the family attempted to argue that there was no insurance coverage in this situation because the son was the only person who had permission to drive the car.

The Court in this case ruled that the driver was insured under the policy because the son had given permission to the friend to use the family car. The Court found that once the father gave initial permission to his son to use the car, the son in turn could permit someone else to use the vehicle and still be covered by the family's auto insurance.

In another case, the insurance company in the original policy provided that liability coverage would not apply to an accident occurring while the car was driven by the eighteen year old son. This was included in the policy because of his past driving record. The son drove the car anyway and had an accident which resulted in injury to the people in the other vehicle. The injured people obtained a $10,000 judgment against the father and son, and they had to pay it out of their own pocket since insurance coverage did not apply in this situation.

Pact with school secretaries; reopen teacher, secretary talks

Both Teachers Local 743 and its Secretaries Council have notified the Granite City Board of Education of their desire to reopen their working agreements at the end of the current school year.

No specific date for negotiations has been set. The district will contact the two groups and list negotiating committee members.

The board ratified a new secretarial agreement Tuesday night after similar action by the Secretaries Council on Monday night.

The teachers' federation has a one-year pact expiring this summer, and the secretarial group had been negotiating on 1983-84 provisions until this week's tentative agreement.

The pact involves no increase in wages other than the increment for an added year of experience.

Creation of three secretarial positions was voted by the school board Tuesday night to ease the office workload at secondary schools. Two will work at Granite City High School and the third secretary will work at both junior high schools, Coolidge and Grigsby.

The board two weeks ago hired a consulting firm to review high school clerical procedures and recommend streamlining and modernization. Its report will be received this spring.

In other business, Warren D. Collins, administrative assistant for elementary education, advised the board of his June 30, 1986, retirement plans.

Collins said, "In 1964, I selected this district and community as my choice in which to work and reside. Fortunately, the district also selected me."

"I selected Granite City because of its excellent reputation in providing quality education. That reputation has proven to be well deserved."

"My three sons have also benefited from the excellent educational opportunities provided by this district. It is an honor to have served the community and to live in an area where educational values are held in such high esteem."

Also retiring in June 1986 will be William L. Harris, a Frohardt School middle intermediate teacher. He said, "It will have been my pleasure to work with the youth of our community for 16 years. I have treasured experiences that will remain with me to eternity."

"My only regret is that I started in the teaching profession at such a late period in my life. However, I hope through my previous experiences I was able to bring to my students another dimension or insight into why education is so important."

—Raymond P. Fyalka, a high school English teacher. He said his "years of teaching in the Granite City district have been very enjoyable. As a teacher and as a parent of four children who have gone through the schools, I have discovered how outstanding our school system is. I sincerely hope I have contributed a little in making the district the great one that it is."

—Georgiana VanBuskirk, a Coolidge Junior High School mathematics teacher.

—Mrs. Donald (Cecelia L.) Stucke, a Granite City High School secretary.

—Richard Dean Oram, a chauffeur. He serves as a teamster (driver) in the school district maintenance department.

—Lorraine M. Boushard, a Grigsby Junior High cafeteria employee.

Thomas E. Oram Sr., a teamster with the school district since August 1953, will retire effective May 18, 1986. He said, "I have acquired many good memories, and appreciate having had the opportunity to work for this school system."

A Mitchell School cafeteria worker, Lena Scher, is to retire on May 31, 1984.

Donald Deterding will continue as a GCHS physical education teacher but will give up his role as the physical education department head on June 1, 1984.

In the special education district, Madison County Region 1, an occupational therapy contract with Mrs. Jane McGregor was ended at her request. Her husband is being transferred from this area. She will continue working until the sale of her property and while the region seeks applicants for the therapist job.

With the position of special education director being found to be comparable to that of the vocational director, a $973 pay increment retroactive to July 1 was authorized for Steve Balen, Region 1 director.

Parental role in appeals on school library materials

The composition of library book appeals committees was outlined by the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night, with parental participation emphasized.

To do so, the board revised its policy regarding complaints on library and resource materials, KNBA.

For secondary schools, seventh through twelfth grades, the appeals committee will consist of a parent, a student, an administrator, a faculty member, a department head and a librarian.

Criticism of materials in the school library will be submitted in writing to the principal, using a Request for Reconsideration Form. The Board of Education, meanwhile, will be informed.

The allegations will be considered first by a committee of faculty members appointed by the principal.

This committee will be in the subject matter field of the material being challenged. The material will be judged by the committee as to its conformity to the Library Bill, of Rights.

Materials involved will be suspended, pending a decision in writing by the faculty committee. Appeals from that ruling then can be made through the principal to the six-member appeals panel.

A similar procedure exists for elementary schools, kindergarten through the sixth grade. The faculty committee will include both primary and intermediate levels, chosen from any elementary school in the district.

The elementary appeals committee will be composed of two parents, an administrator, a faculty member and a librarian.

A transcript will be kept of each appeals hearing and of the findings and recommendations. This transcript will be reviewed by the Board of Education for a final decision, if requested by the person or persons filing the complaint.

Updating of the policy was proposed by the board's Policy Committee in consultation with the Citizens Advisory Council of the school district.

Children learn about helpers in community

Noah's Ark Day Care Center, 2300 Pontoon Road, devoted one week to the study of persons in the community who help others in various ways.

Called "Community Helpers Week," the program featured a visit to the school by James Bernaix, a mail carrier, who explained how mail is sorted and delivered.

Educational field trips were taken by the youngsters, including a tour of the Johnson Road Fire Station, where an up-close inspection of a fire truck and a city ambulance was afforded the children.

Later the same week, the pre-schoolers made a trip to Henson's Farm Fresh on Pontoon Road, where owner Otis Henson gave the youthful guests a personal tour of the facility and described its operation.

The children were accompanied on the trips by Paula Gendron, a teacher at the Noah's Ark Day Care Center, who was assisted by Teri Pelikan, also a teacher, and Nancy Barr, a volunteer.

Among the youngsters taking part were Jason Abbott, Adam Bernaix, Tiffany Choat, Katie Dellamano, Missy Fourcoul, Beth Gregus, Barbie Holland, Greg Kibbler, Sangeeta Kumar, Robert Lampitt, Angela Lohdell, Kristi Lee, Josh Miller, Michelle Montgomery, Jonathan Mowery, Mikey Simpson, Nick Mehele and Mike Moltronic.

Information concerning the school may be obtained by calling 877-6935.

The field trip was part of the center's "Community Helpers Week" program. The pre-schoolers also heard James Bernaix, a mail carrier, describe his job in another session.

Alderman issues caution: don't remove sewer plugs

Fourth Ward Alderman Phillip Miller wants to remind ward residents in the Lueders Estates area to keep basement sanitary sewer connections plugged.

Last week Miller and other residents again suffered some damage due to sewage backups from open home sewer drains. The section involved also includes Wilson Park Drive and Lane.

According to Miller, a Fehling Road lift station malfunction caused the most recent backup problem.

The situation was promptly corrected, but not in time to prevent the damage, he said.

The alderman said the Fehling Road sewer is next on the list to repair, but the city must wait for the arrival of a pump before it can install a new lift station at the site. Until the work is completed, he cautions residents to keep basement drain plugs in at all times — not just during rainy periods.

In June, the homes of Miller and his neighbors were subjected to repeated floodings of raw sewage following heavy rainstorms. The sewage spurted through basement sinks, toilets and shower drains.

He advises residents to install temporary caps on basement toilets and showers. Some residents have the basements, he said. He warns that sewage also can back into homes through clothes washers in basements.

Last month, City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic reported that the city had received a total of six requests for reimbursement due to sewage flooding. The claims range from $500 to $6,000.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stoppotte, 3301 Fehling Road, are seeking the largest settlement after they took the advice of health officials to discard all their basement carpeting. They also were forced to dispose of furniture, including a sofa and chairs.

The city has turned those claims over to its insurance broker.

TYPEWRITER MISSING

Coast Guard offers safe boating course

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Office of Recreation of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are sponsoring an eight-week public education course on safe boating.

Included in the sessions will be the State and Federal requirements for boating, boat handling, boater's language, rules of the road, aids to navigation and various other subjects for safe ways to boating enjoyment.

THE COURSE is approved for the requirements for the Illinois Youth Boating Law, requiring youth from 12 to 18 years old to complete an approved safe boating course in order to operate a motor boat. Certificates will be awarded by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary to anyone completing the course.

Sessions, Feb. 27 through April 23, will be held every Monday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Mississippi Room of the University Center. There will be a $15 charge for the course; textbook and workbook are included in the course cost.

For further information and registration, interested persons may call the Office of Recreation at 1-692-3984.

Gateway Council to act on light rail proposal

The Transit Committee of the Board of Directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will present a recommendation for major transit capital investment to the Gateway Board at its Feb. 29 meeting. The recommendation is based on the committee's evaluation of the preliminary draft of the Alternatives Analysis Draft Environmental Impact Statement (AA/DEIS) which was presented to the board on Jan. 25.

The five alternatives presented in the study were: no action; Transportation Systems Management (TSM); and two light transit alternatives. The recommendation is to endorse the fifth of the alternatives presented. This alternative includes "light rail service from East St. Louis to Lambert Airport and a shuttle bus system to Clayton."

Selection of alternative five was influenced by "substantial community opposition" to the light rail segment considered for the University City-Clayton area. In addition specification of a particular alignment for the Natural Bridge segment will be made only after consideration of "relative community support for the two proposals presented in the preliminary draft."

The recommendation includes endorsement to explore the "potential for extension of light rail service into Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois." However, it must be noted that these recommendations are contingent upon completion of the AA/DEIS planning and project development process.

This process includes a public comment period and public hearing at which time individual citizens and other interested parties may submit oral or written comments.

The recommendation is the culmination of several years of previous work and preparation of the preliminary draft, which has been underway for nearly one year.

Tuesday Night

MHC boxers undefeated in Belle-Clair bouts

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

BELLE-CLAIR — Granite City's Mexican Honorary Commission boxing team made winning look easy Tuesday night at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds in Belleville as all four local entrants emerged the competition victors.

Capped by Danny Mendoza's third-round technical knock-out of Curtis Henderson in the final bout of the evening, the MHC boxers breezed to victories in four weight divisions — 95, 119, 150 and 165 pounds. And, with the annual Golden Gloves Tournament beginning next week, MHC Coach Mercie Mendoza couldn't be happier with his team's sweep.

"I'M REALLY pleased with our performance here tonight," Mendoza said. "Sure, I guess you can say it's our better conditioning. I always tell my kids that if they're well conditioned they can win a lot of fights in the third round."

"As far as I'm concerned, you can't beat good amateur boxing," Mendoza said. "I think the police saw some good amateur boxing here tonight."

FOR MENDOZA and his boxers, Tuesday night's win was the second such undefeated sweep in less than a week. Last Saturday night in the Twin-Cities boxing show in Festus (Mo.), MHC's boxers also scored four victories, all without a loss.

In fact, considering all the club's last three outings, the local club is 10-1, losing only a 132-pound novice bout last Friday at the 71 Sportsmen's Club in North St. Louis County.

MHC boxers began their sweep Tuesday night in the second bout of the evening as 96-pound Larry Jordan defeated Tom Whitaker of the Belleville Boxing Club.

JORDAN, in only his second amateur fight, scored almost at will. Using an aggressive stance which featured a relentless jab, Jordan won all three rounds.

"Larry's really come on in the short three months," Mendoza said. "I don't like to get kids in the ring too soon. I like for them to get all the basics down before their first fight."

"In the beginning, Larry would just feel with his punches, but now things are really coming for him," Mendoza said. "He's really working hard."

IT DIDN'T take long for MHC to pick up its second victory. In the very next bout, 119-pound Steve Gancheff defeated Troy Mason of the South (St. Louis) Side Boxing Club.

Gancheff, who lost to Mason in MHC's show last November, wasted little time in establishing himself as the more aggressive of the two.

Midway through the first round, Gancheff landed a strong right to Mason, sending him to the canvas. Gancheff continued his barrage through the first round, easily scoring three more times.

Following an uneventful second round which featured more dancing and footwork than boxing, Gancheff landed a nice combination to Mason's chin which seemed to set the scene in the third round.

ALTHOUGH Mason showed sporadic flashes of brilliance in the final round, Gancheff clearly was the more consistent, aggressive boxer.

For Gancheff, Tuesday's victory was particularly glorious because, yes, it avenged an earlier loss to Mason, but also because it extended his string of consecutive victories to four.

"Steve's been boxing extremely well recently," Mendoza said. "He's been consistent and none of them (his opponents) have been pushovers. I wish all the boys had the attitude — the hunger for a fight like Steve does," Mendoza said.

IN WHAT was probably the closest fight of the evening, MHC's Chip Hagnauer defeated the local favorite, Jim Kunkle of the Belleville Boxing Club.

In a 150-pound novice division match-up, Hagnauer earned a judge's split decision over Kunkle. Round one began slow, before Kunkle tagged Hagnauer with a strong left hand. The blow left Hagnauer off balance for the remainder of the round. Round one went to Kunkle.

The hefty Hagnauer redeemed himself in the second round, antagonizing Kunkle with a persistent jab.

Hagnauer used the jab effectively which eventually caused a seemingly unstoppable nosebleed to the Belleville boxer. Then, realizing his opponent's vulnerability to the jab, Hagnauer began to mix his punches more effectively.

Two jabs. Then come with a right. It worked well. Hagnauer won the second round.

Despite the nosebleed, Kunkle persisted. The third round was nearly even.

HAGNAUER'S jab, made even more effective because of his lengthy arms, decided the bout in the third round. That and he used the ring well, cutting off Kunkle in the corner.

"After the fight I told Chip to be ready for anything," Mendoza began. "It was close but I thought he won it. But he was going up against one of their kids, over here, we were preparing for the worst."

THERE WAS a five-bout span before MHC's final boxer, Danny Mendoza, took to the ring — enough of a time span to discuss strategy. But judging from the way the fight ended, Mendoza didn't need a lot of strategy, just stamina. And he appeared to have plenty of that.

The first round began like one of those Japanese monster movies. The kind where two giant creatures throw deadly blows at the other but neither seems to affect the other.

As the first round wore on, however, Mendoza began to wear Henderson down and in the final 30 seconds of the first round had his opponent positioned against the ropes, landing combinations at point-blank range.

In the second round, the heavy artillery gave way to more conventional warfare — the jab. Mendoza used the jab to effectively keep Henderson guessing and then he unloaded the heavy stuff once again. The highlight of the second round was a roundhouse right hand attack which sent Henderson reeling back toward the ropes.

IN THE third round, Mendoza was clearly the more aggressive of the two. Living up to the nickname — El Torito (The Bull) — printed on his back, Mendoza used a discernible one-two combination to pick apart Henderson. He scored two right hands, just moments apart, which eventually led to the pre-mature end of the bout.

"Danny's right hand really looked good," said his coach Mercie Mendoza. "He's still not there yet, though. Not like I know he can be. Although I expect him to come around by the time the Gloves start," Mercie Mendoza said referring to the coming Golden Gloves tournament.

"Danny landed some good body punches. But what made the difference was that he was able to wear the kid down. He's going to need that kind of stamina if he decides to turn professional."

According to Mercie Mendoza, Danny Mendoza is contemplating a professional career following this year's Golden Gloves Tournament.

"What's left for him. He's had a great amateur career," Mercie Mendoza said. "He's already won the Gloves once. Why pursue the amateur fights. Besides, I think he's a lot better than most of the chumps I see on ESPN anyway."

In Collinsville Girls' Tourney Warriors whip Kahoks, lose to Redwings

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — If ever Granite City High School girls' basketball coach Gordon Galbreath pondered the difference a day can make on a team's competitive edge, he's not any more.

The Warriors, who soundly defeated their host in the Collinsville Invitational Girls' Basketball Tournament 57-28 in the first round Monday night, looked like a different team when they took the floor Tuesday night, eventually losing to the Alton Redwings 76-41.

IN THE first-round game the Warriors dominated from the opening off. Defense was the key to the Warrior game in the first half, allowing the Kahoks only eight points. The Warriors led 27-6 at the half.

In the second half, Granite City showed its opponents that they could also shoot the ball. The Warriors turned a 19-point half-time lead into a 33-point lead by the end of the third quarter.

Pacing the Warriors to Monday's victory was Lisa Lilley with 25 points. This was Lilley's second highest point total of her high school career. It also tied former Warrior Chris Boyd's 1981 record for most points in a Collinsville Invitational game by a Granite City player.

However, Lilley's accomplishments were eclipsed the following night by the performance of Alton's All-American forward Kathy Snipes. Snipes, who scored 30 points in Alton's victory over the Mascoutah jayvee Monday night, set an all-time tournament record Tuesday night when she scored 44 points against the Warriors.

WITH ONE game left to play in the tournament, Snipes now has 74 total points. The current record of 75 points, set by Snipes in last year's tournament, is sure to be shattered Thursday night when the Redwings meet Mascoutah in the tournament final.

In Tuesday night's game against Alton the Warriors were as varied as were their opponents. Although the Warriors were able to contain the mighty Alton offense for the first quarter, that was as long as their good fortune lasted.

The only Warrior lead came a minute and a half into the game when Lilley scored on a layup after Kathy Juhasz had stolen the ball.

A Redwing eight-point scoring surge at the end of the quarter gave Alton a 22-12 lead. After that it was all down hill for the Warriors. Twenty-four third quarter points by the Redwings put the game on ice.

COACH Galbreath contributed most of the Warrior's problems to the Redwing's height.

"They were getting pieces of the ball," said Galbreath. "We weren't using the fake to get the tall girls out of the way."

"No. 33 (Rhonda Patterson) had Lisa (Lilley) shook up all night long. She (Lisa) didn't take it to them like she did last night."

Another problem Galbreath saw was keeping Snipes from putting in the rebounds for easy baskets. Although the Warriors attempted to double team the Alton star, all attempts failed, particularly in the second half.

"We couldn't hold her off the boards. In the first half we did a pretty good job but in the second half they put up more shots and she got more chances to rebound."

"She has a way of moving you out from under the boards and the officials don't notice. She doesn't shove, she just uses her body to edge you out," he added.

ONE SHOT that took place in the game was the fact that the Alton team shot no free throws during the entire game. But perhaps that was for the best as the Redwings went on to defeat the Warriors by 37 points without the help of free throws.

The loss dropped the Warriors into the losers bracket. They will play for third place against the O'Fallon Panthers. The match will be held Thursday night at 8:30 p.m.

Alton advances to the finals against Mascoutah which will be Thursday at 8 p.m.

Red Devils annihilate Eagles, Trojans

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

VENICE — It was almost like Coach Clinton Harris was using the game as a classroom exercise Tuesday at the Venice High School gym as his Red Devils' basketball team soundly trounced the Livingston High Eagles, 97-59. The victory firmly wrapped up the Illini Gateway Conference championship for Venice and ran the Devils record to 17-5 with one game remaining. Livingston dropped to 11-11.

The following night, Wednesday, against IGC rival Worden, the Red Devils lambasted the Trojans 116-47. Against Livingston Tuesday, Venice's offense quickly and almost unmercifully removed all doubts as to the game's final outcome by zooming out to a 26-12 lead. The Devils' surge in the opening phase was paced by senior Phillip White with 10 of his game-high 23 points.

Venice started Wednesday's game with Worden in a similar manner, only better. Or worse, looking at it from Worden's standpoint.

The Devils cruised to a 24-6 first-quarter lead before going ahead 53-13 at the half. Venice increased its lead to 83-23 by the end of the third quarter before coasting to the 69-point victory margin.

In the second quarter of Tuesday's Livingston game, Harris appeared to have his charges concentrating on controlling the flow of the game and, consequently, practically traded basket for basket, but still outscored coach Red Hampton's Eagles, 18-14.

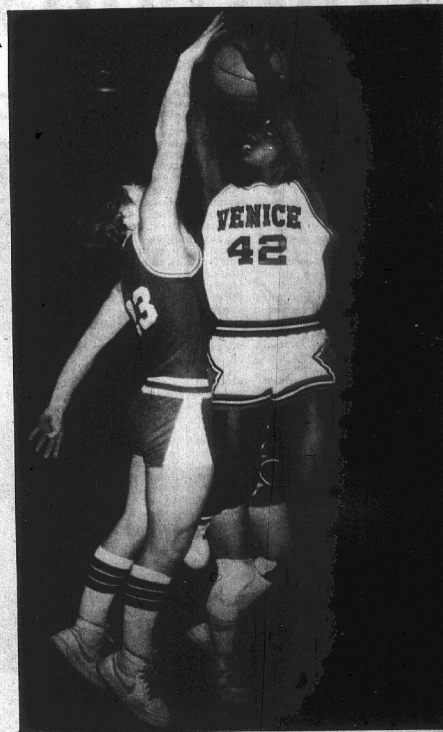

After the second half opening tip-off, the word for the Devils was "offense" and they racked up 25 points to only 14 for the Eagles. But, suddenly, as the fourth and final quarter got underway, Harris switched to a all-tight defense. After the game, he explained: "Some local fans are saying that my kids can't play defense. So, I decided to show them that we could play defense with the best of them."

So, the Devils held Livingston scoreless for nearly five minutes in the fourth quarter. In fact, they permitted only one shot at the basket in that span of time. But, then Harris relented and shuffled in his whole bench and Livingston poured in 19 points, nine of those points were at the free-throw line. For the entire game, oddly enough, Venice made good only on one free throw in four chances.

Trojanettes use double-team defense to edge O'Fallon Tech cagers, 45-36

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — If the Madison High School girls' basketball team ever had any doubt as to effectiveness of two defenders over one, there isn't any more.

The Trojanettes defeated O'Fallon Tech, 45-36, Tuesday by having two players guard the opponent's 6-foot center, Bridgett Bonds.

Although the overpowering Bonds scored 21 points in the contest, O'Fallon's offense faltered after ReGina Banks and Kim Stanley began double-teaming the lanky center during the second half.

MADISON coach Carol Cole praised the teamwork during the victory, explaining that all five players shared equally important roles during the defense.

"Because we had two players on Bonds, our other three girls had to hustle more and watch out for the open player," said Cole. "It truly was a good team effort."

Banks had been assigned the task of stopping Bonds during the first half. The 5-foot-9 Trojan fronted her taller opponent to prevent Bonds from passing. The plan worked in the first quarter, as O'Fallon Tech was held to two points, while Madison scored eight.

In the second quarter, O'Fallon discovered the lob pass as an effective way to get the ball to Bonds. O'Fallon scored 12 to Madison's nine, making the halftime score 17-14.

"ReGina can jump, so she was able to knock away a few passes," said Cole. "But as time went by, the passes kept getting higher and higher. ReGina couldn't stop them all, so I decided to try and double team her (Bonds)."

The second-half strategy helped clinch Madison's victory.

"We frustrated them pretty well," said Cole. "They couldn't get the ball to Bonds, so they started forcing the ball outside. Stephanie Walker-did an outstanding job defensively. She was really hustling."

MEANWHILE, Madison began speeding its offense, moving the ball quicker and finding more open shots. Banks came out on top for the Trojanettes with 15 points, followed by Stanley and Angelette Dandridge with eight each.

Cole was especially happy with Banks' offensive performance against O'Fallon Tech's center.

"ReGina was keeping right with her," said Cole. "I was proud of her performance."

The win puts Madison at 16-2. The team's last home game of the season is set for tonight against Edwardsville, with junior varsity action getting underway at 6 p.m.

MADISON (45): Banks 15, Dandridge 8, Stanley 8, Shipp 5, Walker 3, Harris 2, Heard 2, Riley 2, FG 19, FT 7, PF 10.

O'FALLON TECH (36): Bonds 21, Ford 8, Jackson 4, Gulley 2, Thomas 1, FG 15, FT 6, PF 14.

SIUE matmen enter championships

EDWARDSVILLE — Last year, California State University-Bakersfield entered the NCAA-II Championship Tournament, with eight wrestlers and won the national title, while the Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville entered all 10 varsity wrestlers and finished fourth.

This year, Head Coach Larry Krstoff will be hoping to turn the tales on Cal. State-Bakersfield beginning Friday, Feb. 24, in Baltimore, Md. when the Cougars enter their eighth regional championships against a field which includes 10 members of the defending champions.

The Cougars, who have never won the NCAA-II national title but have been among the top six teams each of the past 10 years, will enter the tournament ranked second in the final regular-season poll of the year.

According to the Amateur Wrestling News, only the defending champions from Bakersfield are a better NCAA-II team than the Cougars. The Cougars are, however, picked as the number one team in Division II and currently ranked 11th in the Division I poll, by the National Mat News.

Last Friday, in Edwardsville, the Cougars powered their way to a decisive championship in the NCAA-II Midwest Regional. SIUE outdistanced Northern Missouri State University for the team title, 115-76½. The University of Wisconsin-Parkside collected third-place honors with 43½ points, while Chicago State University (26), the University of Minnesota-Duluth (19½), Northeast Missouri State (14) and the University of Missouri-Rolla (4½) rounded out the field. Central Missouri State, originally scheduled to be among the eight-team field, did not participate.

Individually, the Cougars will send their eight regional champions to Baltimore Friday.

Boosters meet Tuesday

The Granite City High School Warrior Booster Club will meet this Tuesday, Feb. 28, in the school cafeteria.

According to a booster club spokesman, the meeting was scheduled for last Tuesday but had to be changed to accommodate the Donkey Basketball game scheduled Feb. 21.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Class A Begins March 27

IHSA announces A, AA cage pairings

BLOOMINGTON — The curtain rises for the 77th time when competition in the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Boys State Basketball Tournament series gets under way beginning with Class A action the last week of February. A week later the Class AA schools begin their way toward the finale of "March Madness" in the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois.

A cast of thousands will be involved at the regional tournament level in both the large schools (Class AA for schools with enrollments of 695 or more) and small schools (Class A for schools with enrollments of 694 or less) series. Class A regionals will be at 64 sites Feb. 27-March 2. Class AA regionals will be at 36 sites March 5-9. By the end of the first week of competition in each series, some of the "stars" of 1984 will have fallen by the wayside and others will be continuing at the sectional level.

Pairings for the regionals were announced this week by the IHSA Office. In Class A, a total of 483 schools will compete at the 64 regionals, of which 23 will involve seven teams and 35 will involve eight teams.

Locally, the Madison Trojans and the Venice Red Devils will be competing in the DuPage Regional, along with Valmeyer, Columbia, Assumption and Lovejoy.

The Red Devils will meet Valmeyer in the first round while top-seeded Madison will receive a bye in the first round. The Red Devils, competing in game two, will meet Valmeyer at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 28.

The championship game of the tournament is slated for 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 2.

The winner of the DuPage Regional will compete in the Vandalia Sectional on March 6, 7 and 9 and hopefully the Charleston Super Sectional, March 13.

In Class AA, a total of 242 schools outside the Chicago Public League will compete at the 36 regionals, of which 46 will involve four teams, two will involve five teams and eight will involve six teams.

The Warriors will compete in the Collinsville Regional on Tuesday, March 6, meeting Edwardsville in the second game at 7:30 p.m.

The winner of the Warrior-Tiger game will meet the Collinsville-Roxana winner Friday, March 2 for the championship at 7:30 p.m.

The Collinsville Regional winner will advance to the East St. Louis (Senior) Sectional on March 13, 14 and 16.

A sectionals will be played March 6-7 & 9 at 16 sites. Class AA sectionals will be played March 13-14 & 16 at 14 sites. Class A super-sectionals at eight sites will be conducted Tuesday (March 13), while the seven Class AA super-sectionals will be conducted Tuesday (March 20).

Super-sectional survivors in each class advance to the eight-team state final tournaments. Joining the seven Class AA survivors at Championship for the large school finale will be the representative of the Chicago Public League.

The Class A State Final Tournament is scheduled for the weekend of March 16-17, while the Class AA State Final Tournament is scheduled for the weekend of March 22-24.

The girls three-day Class A and Class AA State Final Tournament is scheduled for the next weekend, March 29-31.

All super-sectionals in the 1984 boys series will be conducted with 7:30 p.m. starts. The playing schedule for each boys State Final Tournament is identical, and will be: Friday at 12:15 p.m. for Session No. 1 and two quarter-final games; Friday at 7:15 p.m. for Session No. 2 and two quarter-final games; Saturday at 11:15 a.m. for Session No. 3 and two semifinal games; and Saturday at 6:30 p.m. for session No. 4 and the third place and championship games. The title game will begin at 8:15 p.m.

The two-class system is in its 13th year of existence and in the previous 21 class state final tournaments only two schools have claimed the title more than once — Lawrenceville in Class A in 1972, 1974, 1982, and 1983, and Madison in Class A in 1977 and 1981.

State Wrestling

Wall Lake, Iowa, didn't have a high school wrestling team, but Ewoldt was a member of the Iowa State Teachers College squad while he earned his degree between Navy stints. He spent six years in the service before and during the Korean Conflict and college, and accepted his first coaching job at West Central in Maynard, Iowa.

In 1959, he became assistant wrestling coach at Wheaton (Community) High School, then head coach in 1964, and athletic director in 1973. He has also taught biology for these 25 years and coached Tiger teams in football and baseball.

One of the original organizers of the current IWCFA, founder of its Hall of Fame and chairman of its selection committee, Ewoldt was an organizer of the annual All-State Banquet. He became IWCFA historian in 1971 and developed the first set of statewide wrestling records. He was elected to the IWCFA Hall of Fame in 1975. For many years publicity chairman of the Illinois Wrestling Federation, Ewoldt also has served the NCAA Division One Tournament as a member of the bench personnel, and has received that organization's 25-year award.

In this year of the Olympics, it is appropriate that 1932 silver medalist and former Northwestern University wrestling Coach Jack Riley be honored as a Grand Marshal for 1984.

A Kenilworth native, member of the world record-setting rowing crews while in high school, and a standout football player and wrestler as a student at Northwestern, Riley culminated his mat career in Los Angeles in 1932, taking second place at heavyweight.

He lost the championship bout in overtime. Riley won the national collegiate heavyweight titles in 1931 and 1932, and was an All-American in football in 1931.

After college, Riley played professional football, entered the U. S.

Marine Corps and served in the Pacific in World War II. He returned for a 10-year career as head wrestling coach of Northwestern. Jack retired from coaching in 1957.

Riley is a member of the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame, a charter member in the Northwestern Hall of Fame, and a member of the IWCFA Hall of Fame.

16 share prize; lotto sales top $10.8 million

Sixteen lotto players matched all six winning numbers drawn Feb. 18 and each of them will collect a lump-sum payment of $22,345,500.

Multiple grand prize winners share the actual cash in the grand prize pool, which was $3,717,528.

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, said that had a single winner won, the lottery would have purchased a 20-year annuity for that player with the $3,717,528 in the grand prize pool. That annuity would have been worth $8.8 million paid over 20 years.

The $8.8 million prize would have been the largest ever won in a United States lottery.

Last week's guaranteed single-winner grand prize, which began the week at $7 million, increased on Thursday to $7.5 million and again to $8 million on Friday, prompting record lotto sales of $10 million, up more than $4.6 million over the previous record set during the week ending Oct. 15, 1983.

The lottery superintendent said that as "lotto fever" hit its highest pitch late Saturday afternoon, lotto sales were running about $10,000 per minute.

He added that the lottery's total sales for the week ending Feb. 20 should exceed $20 million.

The previous record weekly sales for all four lottery games was $17.4 million, posted in the week ending Feb. 13, 1984.

Jones said the actual cash in the grand prize pool of $3,717,528 included $1,061,439 rolled over from the Feb. 11 lotto, in which there was no grand prize winner, plus $2,656,089 from the week's lotto sales — about 24.5 percent.

In addition to the 16 grand prize winners, 1,985 players matched five of the six winning numbers; each will collect $546.

An additional 81,439 players matched four of the six winning numbers. They will each collect $19.50.

The winning numbers were 07, 08, 09, 11, 18 and 20.

The lottery is guaranteeing a grand prize of $3.5 million to a single winner who matches all six winning numbers this Saturday, Feb. 25.

Multiple winners would share the actual cash in the grand prize pool.

The lottery attempts to award its players the largest possible prizes.

When individual lotto players win cash prizes of $250,000 or more, the lottery will purchase annuities for each winner so that they will actually collect more than they would if they received lump-sum payments.

Budget calls for higher VA funding

Domestic spending for Veterans Administration programs in Illinois will increase $32 million in the 1985 fiscal year budget submitted to Congress by President Reagan this month.

The president has asked for $1,002,310,000, up from $970,175,000 for 1984. This year, the amount was increased some $20 million over 1983.

Compensation and pension programs will increase $424,000 in direct payments to veterans. GI Bill and other readjustment training programs will drop some $10 million. With most Vietnam Era veterans now in their late 30's, either their 10-year delimiting date has expired or they have already used their benefits for education.

General operating expenses for VA offices in the state will increase by $2.5 million. Medical and construction programs at the state's six medical centers will increase by more than $40 million.

Insurance and indemnities will increase by about half a million dollars.

Contestants sought for Teen Miss event

Contestants are now being sought to represent Granite City and surrounding communities in the official Illinois State Preliminary of the U. S. A. Teen Miss Scholarship Pageant, to be held in the ballroom of the Holiday Inn in Springfield.

To qualify as a contestant, a teen must be between the ages of 13 and 18 (inclusive) as of July 4, 1984. National finalists must be a citizen of good character and of a charismatic (leadership quality) personality. Only one contestant will be accepted from a community and will represent the pageant in appropriate local activities during her one year reign.

The newly-crowned Area Teen Misses will compete with other area finalists in communications, evening gown and interview competitions for the state title and crown of Illinois Teen Miss, plus, a $1,000 cash scholarship award. Each of the state's 10 semi-finalists will receive a complete, self-study modeling course.

Applications may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Illinois Teen Miss Pageant, 31 Mill Plain Road, Danbury, Conn. 06810, or by calling the national headquarters at 1-203-748-6682.

Eagles Auxiliary to aid Founder's Day celebration

At the regular meeting of the Eagle Auxiliary held, last week, presided over by the President, Gladys Freeman, the members held a Valentine party at tables decorated with red balloons and red crepe paper streamers, with balloons and bells suspended from the ceiling. Before the meeting the president presented each officer with a Valentine corsage, that were made by Yvonne Gray, the decorating chairman.

Linda Bone, the conductor, escorted President Freeman and the Auxiliary Mother Leona Deloyle, to the altar, where they were each presented with a Valentine gift from the auxiliary by secretary, Helen Frasier.

Applications were approved and balloted on for Mary McCall, Loraine Gipson, Patricia Hale, Mary Hoerle, Carmen Toth, Martha Ryan and Leona Jones, and the reenrollment of Mary Hayron was accepted.

Plans were discussed for the forthcoming visit to the State Eagles auxiliary president on March 24th.

at which time there will be a group initiation.

The secretary read the schedule of visits of the grand president, Bess Lanarduzzi, to auxiliaries throughout the State of Illinois, to which local auxiliary members have been invited. Mrs. Lanarduzzi is from Trail British Columbia, Canada.

On Feb. 26th the local Aerie will sponsor and celebrate Eagles Founders Day at the Eagles Home, with initiation of both the Aerie and Auxiliary, and there will also be a pot luck dinner, and members are asked to bring a covered dish.

Get well cards were sent by the visiting chairman to Ann Sporic, who is in the hospital, and to Mary Lipscomb.

The white elephant prize, donated by Micker Patton, was won by Tina Warden, and the attendance prize was won by Connie Odum.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served after the meeting by hostesses Yvonne Gray, Joan Aubuchon and Angie Buehler.

The meeting adjourned until Feb. 28th, at 8 p.m.

Plants for 'dish gardens' is studied

Mrs. Charles Gandorla presented a study on plants suitable for "dish gardens" at the February meeting of Cloverleaf Garden Club.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. John Jenkins, 2442 Lynch Ave. She served a dessert luncheon prior to the business discussions and programs for the day.

Mrs. Gandorla displayed a large pottery saucer with many cacti from the seedling stage to the average size they make in gardens.

She exhibited pictures of many of the varieties when they grow to maturity and explained the methods of care to be given them through the growth period. She also had plants that were potted in small cans and were sprayed various colors. Each member was presented with one at the conclusion of her talk.

The program on Cedar Waxing Birds was given by Mrs. George Knapp. She said the cedar waxing bird gets its name for its fondness for cedar berries. Some people know them as "cherry birds" due to its habit of eating cherries. Its red wax-like tips of its wing feathers give rise to the name "waxing."

They can be found almost anywhere because of the large numbers of insects consumed by them, it is a valuable assistant to the garden in spite of the liking for the berries. In years gone by, this was one of the species that usually finished its career as an ornament for a ladies hat. Fortunately, this use has been terminated by law. They are the most uncertain of visitors and may be around one summer only to disappear at that season for several years, Mrs. Knapp explained.

President Mrs. B. C. O'Neill called the meeting to order with Mrs. Lester Rhine giving the club collect.

Mrs. O'Neill introduced a new member, Mrs. Larry Melvin, during the session.

A discussion was held by the members giving ideas about the topics and studies to be given for the new year.

The president announced the club has been invited to meet in the home of Mrs. George Stearns, 1 Terrace Lane, for the March meeting.

Others attending were Mesdames Kenneth Brokaw, Clarence Etheridge, Eldon Melkamp, Larry Melvin, Robert McCauley, William McSturry, Louise Sedlack, George Stearns, Albert Taylor and Ray Williamson.

State Rep. Wolf unopposed

By BILL WINTER

Seeking his fifth legislative term, State Representative Sam Wolf of Granite City is unopposed in the Democratic primary election March 20.

No candidate has filed for the Republican nomination, but one may be named for the Nov. 6 general election in Representative District 111.

The 111th includes Venice, Nameoki, Granite City, Chouteau, Hamel, Edwardsville, Moro, Omphent and Pin Oak townships. Northern residents of the 56th are in the 112th District, represented by Jim McPike, an Alton Democrat who is the House majority leader.

Wolf was the first to be elected in the 111th two years ago, when the House completed a change from 59 three-member districts to 118 single-member districts.

Chairman of the Illinois House Personnel and Pensions Committee, Wolf is one of the most active state legislators.

His committee memberships are Elections, Executive, Financial Institutions and Transportation-Motor Vehicles.

The lifelong Quad-City area resident is chairman of the Illinois Legislative Council. That bipartisan joint House-Senate agency is composed of eight appointed representatives, eight appointed senators and the leader of each party in the Senate and House.

The Legislative Council staff provides research, legal, scientific, economic, historical and other topics at the request of legislators or legislative panels. It also conducts an orientation conference for newly-elected legislators.

There are two on-going legislative Council programs with Sangamon State University, one recording oral history from legislators and former legislators, and the other operating a legislative intern program for graduate students.

The Council prints daily calendars while the General Assembly is in session, showing the progress of legislation in each house and in conference committees.

Wolf's current participation on state commissions involves Motor Vehicle Laws, Property Insurance Laws Study, International Trade-Promotion and Pension Laws. On the latter commission, he was elected in 1983 to its executive committee to formulate pension system legislative recommendations.

He is a veteran member of the Legislative Advisory Committee to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

Wolf has worked closely with Speaker of the House, Michael Madigan on economic growth, hazardous waste issues and programs for senior citizens, and he supported a series of utility reforms, including creation of the Illinois Citizens Utility Board.

The Granite City man was instrumental in passage of the —Economic Recovery Bill, seeking to foster job opportunities by utilizing private capital and state credit, with cooperation by industry, labor, financial firms and the state government.

—Motor Safety Law for Motorcycles, requiring persons under the age of 18 to complete a motorcycle training course before receiving an operator's license.

—Legislation altering vehicle lighting requirements to make motorcycles more visible.

—Continued mandatory licensing of certified public accountants.

—Legislation making Illinois the 31st state to join the non-resident law violator compact.

—Law tightening liability requirements for rental vehicles.

—Law supporting bills setting up "circuit breaker" and "homestead" property tax exemption programs for Illinoisans.

He backed the laws that virtually ended the state inheritance tax and that eliminated the state sales tax on medicine and food purchases.

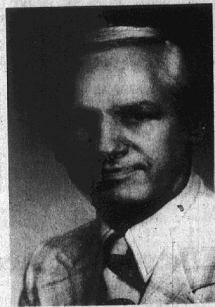

Rep. Wolf aided passage of a law effective Jan. 1, 1982, that strengthened the regulation of driving by persons under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

He supported enactment of laws that simplified admission of persons to nursing homes, provided added protection for abused children, helped protect the elderly from attacks by criminals by greatly widening the penalties, increased court authority to curb domestic violence, and barred probation (non-confinement) sentences for residential burglars.

Wolf, 64, longtime owner and operator of a real estate and insurance agency in Granite City, became a precinct committeeman in 1966.

He has been secretary-treasurer of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee since 1970.

His party activities have included service as a national Democratic committee member starting in July 1976, as a national presidential nominating convention delegate, and as a delegate to the national party's mid-term congress.

SAM W. WOLF

Rep. Wolf was appointed to the state legislature Oct. 9, 1976, and served until January 1977. He was elected to two-year terms in November 1978, 1980 and 1982.

His past memberships have included the County Problems Commission, the House Insurance Committee and the Committee on Environment, Energy and Natural Resources.

Wolf and his wife, Mae, have two sons, Dave and Larry.

The legislator was born in Venice and attended Venice schools. He has lived in Granite City since the 1940s and is a lifetime resident of the local House district.

A member of the United Steelworkers of America while employed at the Steel City Steel, he was loan officer and then assistant vice president of the former Mercantile Mortgage Company, working there for seven years before entering the real estate and insurance field in 1954.

He has taken business courses at Washington University and Northwestern University.

Past president of the Granite City Board of Realtors and the Granite City Kiwanis Club, he is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and National Association of Independent Insurance Agents.

Wolf handled extensive administrative and executive duties in World War II. He served in the armed forces for five years and advanced from private to chief warrant officer.

A personnel officer and adjutant, both in the field and at military headquarters, he served overseas in the Asiatic-Pacific and European theaters.

His governmental service included the position of legislative assistant to the Illinois secretary of state in 1977 and 1978.

He was among those who devised the method in which the corporate personal property tax was replaced by a mathematical factor in the corporate income tax.

Wolf believes that "during my tenure in Springfield, I have built a solid record of service and commitment to my constituents."

"I want to continue that service. I understand the needs of those in my district, and I can get things done for the district."

"We must continue to fight for programs that assure the health and well-being of citizens. We must also work with business and labor to help Illinois regain its prominence among the leading states in the nation."

"I hope voters of the 111th District will again show their approval of my efforts on their behalf and re-elect me to another term in the House of Representatives."

Warfield began his career in education as a teacher in the Madison public schools in 1968. From 1973 to 1977 he was employed as principal of Mason City High School in Mason City, Ill., located 30

Bell files request to reprice Centrex service

Illinois Bell filed a request last week with the Illinois Commerce Commission to reprice and restructure its Centrex service offering for business customers.

"Today's filing will make Centrex service our flagship business communications service - more competitive in the marketplace," said Roger L. Plummer, Illinois Bell vice president-marketing. "The filing will offer many of our customers reduced rates, increased rate stability and more features for their money."

The filing proposes a "basic" Centrex service, which would replace the present Type II and II-A customers would pay a monthly flat charge for each Centrex line. Customers could purchase additional features, such as distinctive ringing and automatic callback, at reduced prices.

Under the plan, charges for Centrex service would vary with the customer's geographic location. The state would be divided into three geographic bands - called Access Area A, B and C - with Centrex charges based on the cost of service in each area. Illinois Bell introduced a similar pricing plan for basic local telephone service in January 1984.

Centrex service rates would be the lowest in Access Area A, the Chicago Loop and near-Loop areas. Rates would increase with the cost of providing service in Access Area B - the remaining Chicago area and some adjacent suburban communities. Rates would be the highest in Access Area C - the outer band covering most suburban communities and the rest of the state.

The filing proposes a rate structure based on line size. The charge for Centrex lines would decrease as the number of telephone lines in service increases. The reduced rates reflect economies in the cost to provide service as more lines are added.

Rates for Centrex customers also would be adjusted to reflect the implementation of the Federal Communications Commission's interstate access charge plan on April 3. Centrex service customers would receive adjustments in the intrastate line charge to make their total monthly charges comparable to similar charges for PBX (Private Branch Exchange) service.

"This filing eliminates the pricing disadvantage faced by our Centrex customers because of the implementation of access charges," Plummer said.

Centrex customers would be offered rate reductions through three-, five- or seven-year contracts. The reductions increase with the length of the contract. Existing Centrex customers may convert to these contracts at no additional charge.

For new customers, Centrex service rates would include a rate plan based on the customer's physical distance from the Illinois Bell switching center. Customers in close proximity to the switching center would pay a lower charge than customers farther from the center. Charges would increase as the cost to provide service increases. While existing customers are not required to pay distance-sensitive rates, they may choose to take this rate option. Illinois Bell provides and maintains Centrex service from its electronic switching centers.

Revival services scheduled at First Church of Nazarene

The Rev. Morris Chalfant, an evangelist having served in Africa at one time, will be speaking at revival services set for Feb. 29 through March 4 at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111, the Rev. William H. Roddy, host pastor announces.

Rev. Chalfant is the son of the late Dr. E. O. Chalfant, one of the outstanding district superintendents of the Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Roddy explained.

He has won several enviable records as an athlete in high school and college and pastored many churches. As a missionary in Africa, Rev. Chalfant led in the development of a new area, and on one occasion withstood 200 Mau Mau determined to put him to death, the local minister added.

The guest speaker is now living in Norwood, Ohio, and where he has served as pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene since 1973. He has a B.A. Degree from Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho, and has done graduate work at the Northwest Nazarene College as well as Eureka College, Eureka, Ill. Rev. Chalfant has been a regular contributor to many religious and secular periodicals and has completed special assignments for the Church of the Nazarene.

He has been an ordained elder for 39 years and during that time been minister, full-time evangelist and missionary. From 1975 to the present time he served as trustee at Mount Vernon Nazarene College, been a member of Kiwanis International since 1973 and in 1978 accepted the office of president of Norwood Fellowship of Christian Christians. His hobbies are tennis and golf, Rev. Roddy noted.

Services will be held each night at 7:30 o'clock and on Sunday at both the 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. service. Rev. Roddy extends an invitation to the public to attend all services.

Women's Aglow Conference set March 9 in St. Louis

The Women's Aglow Fellowship Eastern Missouri Area Board will sponsor an area retreat and conference in St. Louis on March 9 through 11 for women and teen agers from the eastern side of Missouri, according to Joyce Compton, publicity chairman for the event.

Theme for the spring 1984 interdenominational gathering of charismatic christian women is taken from the New Testament, she added.

Mrs. Compton added that the featured speaker for the conference will be Matilda Kipper of Elma, N.Y., who is the U.S. field representative from Women's Aglow Fellowship International, and retreat leader, church speaker and is in the process of writing a book.

Leading the worship segment will be Tammy Nashman, director of music at Abundant Life Church. She also is a worship leader, guest speaker and singer having appeared on local television stations. There also will be the Expressive Worship Team from Hillsboro, Mo.

Mrs. Kipper is married to Wallace Kipper, foreman at McKesson Chemical Co. and is the mother of four children and grandmother of eight. A former Aglow president, Mrs. Kipper has taught Sunday School, and neighborhood Bible studies and served on the Board of Directors for the Menomonee River Valley.

She has been a guest on numerous television and radio stations.

Tammy Nashman was born in Herrin, Ill., and has lived in St. Louis for seven years. She transferred there to attend Webster College where she received her bachelor's degree in music education and her master's degree in piano performance and teaching.

Adorers of Blood of Christ celebrate 150th anniversary

The Adorers of the Blood of Christ, as a part of their celebration of their 150th year, gathered for a special "birthday party" at the provincial house in Ruma, Red Bud, Ill. This date was chosen to honor their founder, Blessed Maria De Mattias on the anniversary of her birth and baptism. Blessed Maria established the ASC congregation in central Italy on March 4, 1884.

Approximately 250 of the nuns and their associate members, participated in a Mass celebrated by the Rev. Roland Mayer, SM, and the Rev. Dennis Schaefer, provincial house chaplain. Following the homily by Rev. Mayer, a candlelight ceremony was held for the renewal of baptismal consecration by all present.

Sister Joan Marie Voss, provincial superior of the Ruma ASC community, spoke briefly of the significance of the light which each nun and associate passed on to another as a sign of the sharing of life itself with others, particularly the life of faith.

An anniversary or birthday celebration, she noted, is certainly a commemoration of past events.

Following the Mass, a festive dinner was prepared by the provincial house dietary staff and served by the 150th committee. The community marked its 150th anniversary of service in the mid-west area in 1876. At present nuns of the Ruma province serve in 14 dioceses in four countries around the world.

SIUE's 'September Option' offers early college start

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer "September Option," a one-month intensive learning opportunity, for the first time this fall. According to Barbara Teters, vice president and provost, the offering will enable participating students to obtain an earlier start on the fall quarter.

Those who choose to take part in September Option will, in many cases, be able to accelerate their progress towards completion of degree requirements, acquisition of a foreign language, or advancement in a career, the vice president said.

THE EARLY offering will begin Monday, Aug. 27, and end Friday, Sept. 21. The beginning dates for the traditional fall quarter remain the same: Weekend University classes will begin Saturday, Sept. 22, and regular classes will meet for the first time on Monday, Sept. 24.

Classes in September Option will meet two hours a day, five days a week. Because of the concentrated instructional format, most students will take only one course. In fact, nearly all September Option classes will meet at the same time, from 8:30 to 10:20 a.m. daily.

September Option classes, which will be taught for the most part by the university's regular faculty, will serve several groups of students in particular, according to Vice President Teters.

FOR INSTANCE, entering freshmen who wish to complete some preparatory work will be able to choose from courses in elementary mathematics, basic writing, beginning algebra, reading skills, and introductory chemistry. Developmental courses are offered by the university's Office of Academic Services.

Other entering freshmen may choose to complete a general education requirement before the traditional beginning date for the fall quarter. Courses in English composition, critical thinking, speech communication, American history and contemporary biology will be available, the vice president said.

Continuing students can accelerate their academic progress by completing courses in elementary music theory, intermediate algebra, or precalculus. Such courses may provide access to advanced courses in the discipline and to major programs.

SOME COURSES may serve students with specialized career interests. "Offerings in computer programming may appeal to those seeking career advancement or change, as well as to our regular students," Dr. Teters explained.

"September Option will enable someone employed full-time to complete a course for professional development purposes by attending a morning class for only one month," she said.

In addition, travelers should enjoy an intensive, non-credit introduction to conversational Spanish. Graduate students and others will be able to take advantage of a non-credit course in reading German.

Students will have several opportunities to register for courses in September Option. Those who register for fall classes during the regular registration process scheduled for late spring will be able to sign up then for a September Option offering. Others, including those who wish to attend only September Option, may register at any time prior to the beginning date of Aug. 27.

who are first learning how to program. It is a language which permits users to play games, write letters, create questionnaires, compile lists and do complicated math problems.

Campers will learn the elementary commands, statements, and arguments needed to create their own program.

Among the recreational activities available to the students will be swimming, tennis, racquetball, soccer, softball, basketball and hiking.

BADEN SAID more than 600 young people participated in the program last summer. "Computer Day camp sessions fill very quickly, so I would suggest parents registering their children early to avoid disappointment."

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Baden in the SIUE School of Education by calling 1-692-3643.

THE KNIGHT OF THE BURNING PESTLE, McKendree College Theater's spring production, will run March 7 to 10 in Eisenmayer Auditorium at 8 p.m. This comic adventure, written by Francis Beaumont, may well be the funniest play of the Elizabethan age, a spokesman said. It starts as a conventional romantic comedy but, before the audience knows what hits them, the stage is being invaded by the noisy grocer, who doesn't like the play, an apprentice who wants to become a knight errant, a barber who tortures his clients and an assortment of other characters.

For reservations, interested persons may call 1-537-4481.

Humanities course studies Dante's 'Divine Comedy'

Nothing less than a trip through the entire 13th Century Christian universe, as captured in the words of a major poet in the literary tradition of Western Civilization, will confront the best students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. That is, if they opt for one of the specially designed courses which are not part of the regular curriculum.

"The Divine Comedy" of Dante Alighieri will be the focus in Humanities Honors 303, a course to be taught in Spring Quarter 1984 by Professor Stella Revard of the department of English. The class will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in Room 2417 of Peck Classroom Building.

THE CLASSIC will be read in its entirety: Book I, The Inferno, the poet's descent into hell; Book II, The Purgatory, in which the poet rises toward salvation through penance; and Book III, The Paradise, the consummation of heavenly happiness through the beloved figure of Beatrice. Reading will be in an English prose translation in a dual text so that the poem can be seen in the original Italian.

"No knowledge of Italian is required or expected," Professor Revard points out. "Still, we will devote some discussion to the poetic quality of the work in terms of its style and grace of Dante's use of his native language. We will also encourage inspection of other translations, so a student can gain some appreciation of the challenges involved in turning a pivotal Italian classic into English."

"Italian has a nice sound," she added, pointing to her own study of the Language. "In this course, however, our main concern will be to appreciate Dante's poem as a complete work of literature, with close analysis of plot and character, and a full-in of historical background."

HISTORICAL background, she explained, is critical to a full understanding of the poem, since the poem was deeply immersed in the political, cultural and religious struggles that characterized his time. The characters he places in various parts of his travels from the infernal depths to the pinnacle of heavenly vision are actual persons, many of whom Dante actually knew.

The poem is a "pivotal" classic, according to Professor Revard, because it comprises the full range of classical learning expressed in the vernacular language of a period when the traditional view of the world was being transformed. It recapitulates the past, yet looks ahead to the modern future. Its influence on later literature has been of the first importance; it will also be considered.

Honors courses are open to students with a 4.25 or better grade below this level can gain admittance with the written permission of the instructor. Enrollment in Humanities Honors courses is limited to 15 students, to assure maximum involvement by each student.

There will be no final examination, Professor Revard said. The only requirement will be the preparation of a paper on some aspect of "The Divine Comedy" selected by the student in consultation with the teacher.

For further information about this course, interested persons may call Professor Revard at 1-692-3990 or 2060. Those interested in the Humanities Honors Program in general and future course offerings may call Professor Ron Glossop at 1-692-3376 or 2250.

Problems of the small farmer are focus of new center

By GORDON BILLINGSLEY

It wasn't long ago, in America, when horsepower meant horse power.

For much of the rest of the world the idea still holds true. The power is supplied by oxen or buffalo instead of horses, but animal agriculture remains the rule, not the exception, for more than half of the world.

THE PROBLEMS faced by the world's small farmers—using relatively primitive methods under sometimes harsh conditions—are the focus of a new International Training and Demonstration Center at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

"We want to provide a training site for SIUC's international and domestic students in small farm agriculture," said Herbert L. Portz, supervisor of the center. Portz is a professor of agronomy at SIUC.

"We also want to demonstrate the various crops and animals, and their culture and husbandry, as found in less developed countries," he said.

RICE, BAMBOO, sugar cane and cassava (a root crop) are among crops that will be grown on the one-hectare (2 1/2 acres) plot. The plan is to obtain an ox or bullock to supply power, and to develop systems for irrigation by flooding or trench methods.

"Many international students study agriculture at SIUC, but not all of them are actually experienced in the type of agriculture they will face when they return home," Portz said.

"Many of our own students and our faculty often work overseas in helping nations develop their food production capabilities, and they also need the chance to experience foreign agriculture."

"EVEN FOR students who will never work in agriculture in a less developed country, the exposure to farming methods used by much of the world can be a valuable experience," he said.

International agriculture methods that will be demonstrated include fish farming, small animals such as goats and sheep, exotic crops, energy production and intensive gardening.

Labor parade plans begin

Organized labor will again parade down the streets in Granite City in a show of solidarity and celebration on Labor Day, Sept. 3.

Edwin Reiske, co-chairman of the event, said the early bird announcement is intended to get local labor and civic groups started on their Labor Day plans.

Serving as co-chairman with Reiske will be David J. Kins, president of the United Steel Workers of America Local 4904.

Both men organized the "Solidarity Day III" parade last year.

The labor leaders are urging union members, fraternal groups and community organizations to march or enter a float in the parade.

The parade will start again at Edison and Niedringhaus avenues and travel along Madison Avenue. This year, however, the marchers will turn down 28th Street and proceed to Wilson Park. Speakers will address the public there. Union members also will participate in games.

Last year, the parade was led by U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon, U.S. Representative Paul Simon, Steel Workers District 34 Director Buddy Davis and Illinois AFL-CIO President Robert Gibbon. Arrangements still are being made for guests in this year's event.

Those interested in joining the parade may contact Reiske at 877-4330.

SIUE hosts Middle Ages conference

"The Impact of the Middle Ages" is the title of the opening address to be given at the conference of the Illinois Medieval Association on Saturday, Feb. 25, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The address will be delivered at 9:30 a.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center by Giles Constable, director of Dumbarton Oaks Museum, Washington, D.C. The public is invited to attend Constable's lecture on a space-available basis, after regular conference registrants have been seated.

ROBERTA BOSSE, professor of English at SIUE and one of the co-hosts for the conference, noted that this will be the first meeting for medievalists in the Illinois area. Besides the Constable address, a total of 10 papers will be delivered at the three sessions scheduled for the day.

The conference is a result of discussions held at Macomb, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Springfield, after which a group of Illinois medievalists decided to organize a formative meeting in order to explore the possible interest in developing and continuing an Illinois Medieval Association. "SIUE is proud to provide facilities for this attempt to bring scholars of the Middle Ages together," Professor Bosse said. "And we are all honored to have a man of Giles Constable's stature to help bring us together." Luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. in the Hickory-Hackberry Room of the University Center. The registration fee is $10, which includes the noon meal. Pre-registration is preferred, but not required. All checks should be made payable to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Federal aid President Ford agreed on Nov. 28, 1975, to give federal aid to New York City to help meet its seasonal cash flow needs and avert default.
